

INKY lives with Jamie-Lee, a little girl who has been researching the Bengal breed and saving for three years to buy her own kitten.

She writes; Hi Janne,

Jamie-Lee here. As you can see Inky has settled in well and is used to her new home now. Our cat Colin is enjoying his new companion. They like to play tag and are best buddies now.

Thank you for bringing her up to be such a good kitten and thank you for all the photos and updates you sent me.

I'm looking forward to the future with her
